Travel Assistance:

WMLA offers travel assistance of up to $250 per person to librarians who are WMLA members and who live more than 200 miles from the meeting site in Kenmore, WA. The funds will help defray meeting, travel, and lodging costs. We especially want to encourage first time attendees or those members who have not been able to attend a WMLA meeting in recent years. If you are interested, please send an email to Isaac.Huffman@providence.org with a brief description of where you live and why you want to attend this year's meeting. Applications will be taken until March 13 and we will let you know by March 20.

Thursday, March 26, CE Classes

CE: Session 1

Morning Class: (8:30 AM – 12:30 AM)

Data Collection for Health Information Outreach

Instructor: Susan Barnes

Assistant Director of the NN/LM Outreach Evaluation Resource Center

In this workshop, participants will learn to apply good principles of data collection to assure that data - both qualitative and quantitative - will be useful in making project decisions. The emphasis will be on efficient methods that can keep data collection at a manageable level. Topics will include designing and administering questionnaires and developing guides for conducting interviews. Approved for 4 MLA contact hours.

Susan Barnes received her MLS from the University of Washington in 1978 and held positions at the National Library of Medicine, UCLA, Columbia, and Cornell before joining the staff of the Regional Medical Library at the University of Washington Health Sciences Library in 2000.

CE: Session 2

Afternoon Class: (1:30 PM – 3:30 PM)

Why Would a CMS be Useful?

Instructor: Patrick Shaw

Manager, Web and Database Services, NPower, Seattle

In this workshop, participants will learn about Content Management Systems (CMSs). What is a CMS? Why would a CMS be useful for your library? How to choose a CMS that fits your library and much more.

Patrick Shaw leads a growing team of skilled database and website experts at NPower. Projects include creating websites for Unitus, Social Venture Partners, and the School of Acrobatics. Patrick brings a combined passion for the non-profit sector and creative effective solutions for managing data and sharing information.
